ARE WE WELL PLEASED WITH ARBITRATORS

Long Drawn Contest Ended and Parties Well Satisfied with Result of Arbitration

The long drawn out contest between George S. Lang and Eugene F. Prindle, both of Lawton, has at last come to an end. In 1905 Mr. Prindle sold to Mr. Lang his farm two miles north of Lawton, taking an equity in another farm owned by Mr. Lang as part payment, and taking a contract for the payment of the balance. After Mr. Lang had been in possession of the farm about three years he claimed that it had been misrepresented to him at the time of the sale and brought suit to recover damages, based on that claim. Mr. Prindle claimed that Mr. Lang had not worked the farm properly and had lessened its income and value by poor husbandry and neglect and he brought suit against Mr. Lang to dispossess him. Two trials were had in commissioner's court, two trials in the circuit court and one hearing in the supreme court, and two other suits were still pending when the present term of court opened. At this juncture the parties concluded that it would be better to submit all of their difficulties and disputes to a board of arbitration, and they chose for the arbitrators Milton H. Pugsley and H. P. Waters of Paw Paw, Hamilton Ewing, George A. Coykendall and Edward A. Morehouse of Lawton.

The arbitrators put in eight days' time taking testimony and considering the best thing to be done for all the parties and finally decided that Mr. Lang should surrender the farm back to Mr. Prindle and that Mr. Prindle should pay to him the sum of $3,000 as a complete settlement of all disputes. Both parties expressed themselves as well pleased with the result reached and with the fact that the quarrel was at an end.

Not Among the Worst.

In referring to the settlement of Indiana first by the French, then by pioneer Americans, and later by the Scotch and other nationalities, Father Cavanaugh said at a recent banquet: "I remember my Scotchman well. His name was Sandy Macaulay, and his fondness for a bit of good liquor was almost a gift. As his good wife put it to me, 'Sandy was very drouthy and often that.' When Sandy got older we children used to hear the old people whispering sympathetically about his health and how he was going fast with consumption. One frosty morning a small boy whose heart was kindled with compassion by what his sharp ears had heard, but whose idea of the etiquette of the sick room was rather uncertain, met Sandy as he trudged down the hill past the cemetery. Sandy was barking to beat the bugs, 'O, Sandy, man,' said the boy, 'that's a bad cough you have.' 'Bad cough,' says Sandy, 'Hoot, mon,' pointing to the graveyard, 'there's them lyin' over there would be glad of it.'"

Seek to Profit by Errors.

"The least error should humble, but we should never permit even the greatest to discourage us."—Bishop Potter.

Carried Their Own Spoons.

The cry is now for the individual drinking cup. In Queen Elizabeth's time every guest at a banquet brought his own spoon with him.

Sore Throat Wisdom

If every mother could realize the danger that lurks behind every sore throat, she would rest until she had effected a cure every time a child had one. Your family physician will verify the statement that it is a positive fact that every child with sore throat is in immediate danger of contracting Diphtheria, Quinsy, Scarlet or Diphtheria, and is not removed from danger until the throat is cured. Think of it! Liniments or outward application of medicines do not and cannot cure the throat, though they may offer temporary relief. Neither can you cure sore throat with a cough syrup or a cold cure.

To cure, you must get at the cause of the disease, removing the cause. Nothing does that so quickly, safely and surely as TONSILINE. A single dose of TONSILINE taken upon the first appearance of sore throat may save long weeks of sickness, great expense, worry, even death. TONSILINE is the stitch in time.

Use a little sore throat wisdom and have a bottle of TONSILINE today. You may need it tomorrow. TONSILINE is the standard sore throat remedy—best known, most effective and most used. Look for the long necked fellow on the bottle when you go to the drug store to get it. 25 cents a bottle. 12 cents Hospital Size $1.00. All Druggists.
